CHARLEROI WINS OPENER FROM THE STRONG CANONSBURG TEAM

Trailed in First Quarter but Gradually Overcome Lead and Take Game

CANONSBURG TRIES FOOTBALL

Charleroi high school's basket ball players journeyed to Canansburg last evening, where they played the initiatory game of the season's scholastic schedule with the high school team of that place, defeating them by a score of 20 to 14. On account of a counter attraction in the form of an entertainment given under the auspices of the Houston-Canonsburg Lecture course, as well as the inclemency of the weather, the attendance was somewhat below the usual average. Owing to the inexplicable absence of Referee Lippert. of Pittsburgh, the game, which was originally scheduled for eight o'clock, did not get under way until about a quarter after nine. It then proceeded under a local referee, vouched for by the Canonsburg coach, and his work, despite the severity of the task, was both fair and impartial. Prior to the commencement of play, the coaches and captains of the two teams, together with Prof. T. L. Pollock, superintendent of schools mutually agreed that the game should be counted a championhip contest. This undertanding was necessary on account of the absence of a regular league official.

Right from the start, the players went to work with a will. Naturally, both sides were out to win. It was not very long before the class of the local defense asserted itself. While Canonsburg had a splendid attack, it was unable to cage the sphere, except by the football route. Charleroi repeatedly broke down the home team's onward rush, compelling it to resort to long passes and long throws for the basket, which were, in the main, unsuccessful. The fact that Canonsburg only succeeded in securing two field goals in the entire game, speaks volumes for the efectiveness of Charleroi's work. The home team's scoring was mainly achieved through the consistent foul shooting of Luke who scored ten points out of fifteen trials. The usually reliable Frank Wagner, who served in a similar capacity for Charleroi, was decidedly off color, being able to cage the ball only twice in eleven chances.

Canonsburg players are too prone to resort to tactics other than those of basket ball playing. Early in the game they indulged in considerable football tunts. They were penalized for this. As their chances for victory began to diminish, this feature became somewhat more pronounced. However, not to be outdone by their opponents, the Charleroi boys were compelled to defend themelves, and they were equal to the occasion. The outstanding feature of this particular kind of play was "Peck" Webster's flying tackle of about fifteen feet, but which did not result disastrously to anyone. In fact, the game throghout was particularly free from injuries, and, at its conclusion, a feeling of good fellowship prevailed among the boys.

Coach Stahlman started the game with Weaver and Wagner as forwards Hazelbaker at Center, and Webster and Brown looking after the guard positions. The pace was fast and furious. At the conclusion of the first period Canonsburg was leading by a score of 8 to 1. This advantage was reduced in the second quarter, which by three points, Canonsburg not having scored a point in the second quarter. With the beginning of the second half of the game, Weaver returned to his old position at Center. Lee replacing him at the forward station. Point by point, Canonsburg's slight advantage was dispelled, and the going, just about this time, was decidedly spirited. Daniel took Lee's place at the beginning of the third quarter, and celebrated his entry into the game by spearing a very pretty basket, breaking the tie. Captain Weaver's boys were now going finely, and, point by point, they slowly but surely drew away from their opponents, while the latter were unable to score. Just a few minutes before the conclusion of the game, Stephens was given an opportunity to participate in the play, replacing Daniel.

For Charleroi, Weaver played an unusually fine game, while Brown was impregnable. No throw was too high for 'Tom" to stop, or interfere with. Wagner and Webster were importance factors in the splendid victory, the former's third goal, accomplished near the close of the game, when he went the length of the floor, dribbling the ball and succesfully caging it, being an unusually pretty piece of work. Daniel's brief period of service was marked by some effective playing and basket hooting. All the boys are deserving of praise for their excellent work. Luke was the outstanding star for Canonsburg, and his teammates did valiant service. The summary:

Charleroi—20		Canonsburg—14
Weaver	F	Luke
Wagner	F	Kerr
Hazelbaker	C	McNary
Webster	G	McGrann
Brown	G	Engle

Substitutions: Charleroi—Lee for Weaver, Daniel for Lee, Stephens for Daniel; Canonsburg—Moore for McNary, Courtney for Kerr. Field goals—Weaver 5, Wagner 3, Daniel Luke and Kerr. Fouls—Wagner 2 out of 11; Luke 10 out of 15 Referee—Brown. Scorers—Kimmins and Litten. Tomekeeper—Daniel.

The next game will be played on Tuesday evening of the coming week when the fast Duquesne team will be seen on the local floor.

Large Field of Coal in Greene Co. Changes Hands

Another large Green county coal land deal was reported on Thursday wherein 10,000 acres of the Pittsburg vein in the Dunkird valley section, adjoining that of the St. Paul Fuel company of the H. C. Frick estate, passed into the hands of the Pickands-Mather company of Cleveland. An additional 10,000 acres will also be taken over by the Pickands-Mathers company some time this month. The price involved was estimated to be in excess of $,000,000 The property was formerly controlled by Josiah V. Thompson.

The purchasers will proceed immediately to develop the big acreage ic is said. The plans contemplate a model mining town second to none in the country, with several hundred miners' homes of modern type, schools and a motion picture theatre. The miners will become a part of the Mathers Collieries company, which is one of the country's foremost coal producing concerns.

It is said that several other Cleveland concerns are negotiating for coal land in Greene and Wahington counties, and that one of the big independent steel interests in Pittsburg might be in a position to announce the purchase of a big acreage there before the first of February.

MACCABEE'S HONOR TWO PAST OFFICERS

The Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees held their regular meeting Thursday evening, with eighty-six members present. Eleven application were acted upon for benefit membership. After the busines part of the meeting had been disposed of a fine banquet was served in honor of Mrs. Mary Davis and Mrs. Christian Grant. Past Commanders. The tables were tastefully decorated, and both honor guests were presented with beautiful gifts. The remainder of the evening was spent in music and speaking. WOMEN WILL BE ASKED TO JOIN NEW CIVIC ORGANIZATION

Details Outlined to Members of Athene Club Friday Afternoon

CAN DO MUCH IN CIVIC WORK

Members of the Athena Club yesterday afternoon heard of the plans for the expansion of the Charleroi Chamber of Commerce and were told that the directors of the Board of Trade and members of the executive committee had unanimously voted that women are to be invited to cooperate in the new civic-commercial organization on the same terms as men.

The meeting of the club was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Berryman. When Mrs. E E Piper the president introduced C.L.Alspach to speak of Chamber of Commerce movement nearly 30 members of the club were present. The presentation of the matter was received with keen interest. There was no suggestion that any of the women present should join the chamber at this time but it was announced that in the week of the enrollment of members there will be a women's division, and the prediction was made that it will lead any of the men's section at the finish.

Mr. Alspach in saying why the women of Charleroi should take part in the new chamber told of things in every community which they can do better than men and mentioned a number of instance. He recalled that the first member enlisted in the Flint, Mich., chamber when it was expanded a few years ago was a woman. When she was asked to fill in the line on the card indicating her "occupation," she wrote:

"Being the mother of four boys." Then he added: "But not too busy to be interested in the welfare of the city where those boys are growing to manhood."

It was suggested that one of Charleroi's needs is recrational facilities for the children and young folks; another want is one or more public parks.. "I have no doubt the women members of the chamber will think of other thinks." said Mr. Alspach, "and I am certain that as members of the chamber they will give wonderfully effective service in securing those things for the good of the whole community."

RUTH CLASS ELECTS NEW OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The membersof the class of Ruth, ofthe Methodist Episcopal church, were entertained by Miss Rebecca Myers, at her home on Shady avenue, Friday evening. Business of the class was taken up, subjects of importance were discussed and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Fay Goehring; vice president, Evelyn Warrensford; secretary, Ruth Gass. After the business hour lunch was served by the hostess. Miss Rebecca Myers, assisted by her mother, Mrs. James Myersand Miss Anna Affeltanger.

HAUBE'S STORE IN A NEW LOCATION

Haube, the florist, opened for business this morning at his new location 531 Fallowfield avenue, in the room formerly occupied by the National Grocery. For the past ten years Mr. Haube had been located in the Riva building, 520 Fallowfield avenue, but being required to mave, because the owner desired the premises for his own use, he purchased the Lowstutter property a few months ago,and on Friday completed the change in moving from one location to another.

In securing a permanent location for his business, Mr. Haube has realized an ambition which has possessed him for a number of year. From a small beginning hehasgradually but constantly increased his business, until at the present time it has reached such proportions that it not only requires his constant attention but likewise the services of a number of employes.

Mr. Haube began the floral business in 1898, when he was employed at the plant of the Pittsburg Plate Glass company. Flowers were his hobby. His outfit at that time consisted of two sashes, or hotbeds, measuring 3x5 feet. His first flowers were sold up town in the window of theHarry Lowstutter butcher shop in 1900. The returns were so favorable that hewentinto business inMonessen in 1905, which he sold later and then opened a store in Charleroi. The location was in an old building that stood back of the Charleroi Savings and Trust company property, where the Might building now stands. From there he was compelled to move because the owners were about to tear down the structure, taking a lease on rooms in the Riva building, where he remained for a period of more than ten years, and only giving up that location to occupy the property which he recently purchased, and where he is at present located.

His new store gives him greater facilities for handling constantly increasing trade, occupying not only the storeroom, but the entire basement as well, which is being used as a stock room. His small hot bed of 3x5 feet in dimensions has grown to such an extent that today his greenhouses cover an acre of ground on his property at Twilight, where all his growing is taken care of, and whehehis facilities are of the best.

When all plans and changes are completed Mr. Haube's flower store will be one of the best in the valley, where the choicest of nature's offerings will always be available for his patrons. Mr. Haube's hobby has grown from a pastime to one of the substantial business institutions of our community, the result of which is apparent in the splendid equipment which he now controls for the growing and distribution of flowers.

BURBONS NEVER LEARN

In accordance with their usual custom, some of the most radical of the Democratic free trade papers are raising the cry that the Republicans propose to prevent other nations from shipping to us goods in exchange for those which we ship to them. They picture the impossibility of one nation being a perpetual seller of goods without ever being a buyer. Of course, if it were true that such a scheme of tariff legislation were proposed by the Republicans, the criticism would be well founded, but there is not now and never has been an intention on the part of Republicans to adopt a tariff policy which shall be prohibitive. It is true that the rates of import duty proposed in the pending legislature appear to be high, but this measure is not proposed as a permanent tariff law. The rates are proposed merely to meet an emergency and to continue only until such time as Congress shall have opportunity to study the situation carefully and determine the rates which should be permanently imposed.

The Republican Party has never stod for the absolute exclusion of foreign imports. It has never advocatted an abolute monopoly of the American market by the American producer. Statements to such an effect by the Democratic press are intended to mislead and not to shed light upon the discussion of the tariff question.

The Republicans have insisted in the past and they insist today that there shall be enacted and maintained a tariff law which shall impose import duties at least equal to the difference in cost of production here and abroad, so that the American producer shall at least have an equal opportunity with his foreign competitor in his home market.

What contitutes equality must of course, be subject to difference of opinion. President Wilson argued for free trade and based his argument upon the assertion that American producers must enter into full competition of wits with their foreign rivals. It was his idea that free trade would constitute equality.

From the Republican viewpoint free trade would not be equality but would place the American producer at a disadvantage because of the higher standards of living, the higher wages, and the higher costs of production obtaining in this country.

The American producer ought not be placed on on absolute equality with theforeign producer who is willing to work longer hours, wear poorer clothes, eat coarser food and live in less desirable quarters than those desired by the American.

Relative equality can be secured only by imposing upon the importation of the foreign product a tax which shall represent approximately the difference in American and foreign standards. With such duties imposed an economic equality established, it will then be proper to call upon the American producer to enter into a contest of wits with his foreign rival.

As we watch her charming daughters and listen to their conversation we feel that, if there's anything at all in the theory of heredity, Eve must have had a hat of some kind.—Ohio State Journal.

Confidences.

The discouraging thing about telling a friend about an interesting thing like your own troubles is that it reminds him of his and he has to tell about them, as if anybody cared.

Used Cars.

1918 Cole 8, 7 passenger. Entirely overhauled, a bargain at $950, 1920 Studebaker, "light 6" well worth $1380. Central Garage, Belle Vernon Bell Phone 172. 177-t6

Many primitive races seem to have burnished their pottery before it was fired, in order to get a glossy surface, and in other cases the surface was rendered waxy with resinous substances, which were often colored. There are only four kinds of glaze. Those used by the Egyptians, Syrians and Persians were of alkaline type and most uncertain in their workings. Lead glaze is one of the best and most widespread in use for ordinary purposes.

The Church of Massachusetts.

The Congregational became the established church of the Massachusetts Bay colony in 1651. The same spirit that excused the banishment of Anne Hutchinson and the hanging of the Quakers on the ground that their teaching endangered the stability of the government was at the basis of the act which made church membership a qualification for the franchise, and finally made the Congregational the established church of the colony.

Where Work Is a Party.

The flax combers of Portugal are a happy people. It is the custom on the Iberian peninsula to make the work a gala function. Garbed in their best, adorned with bright gold ornaments, their garments an array of color with gay embroidery, men and women meet to carry on the ordinary daily vocations. In Portugal, that of winding flax is usually given over to the women.—Popular Science Monthly.

Calendar Oddities.

January always begins on the same day of the week as October, and the same is true of April and July, September and December. Also February, March and November begin on the same day of the week. This, however, is true only in years of 365 days. A century can never begin on Wednesday, Friday or Saturday.

Ratiocination With a Twist.

A certain minister of state, rather well known throughout this world for shiftiness, had pledged himself definitely to a certain course of action; and some honorable members were discussing the probability of his keeping his word. One with a pretty wit said: "I think he will, although he said he would."—London Morning Post.

Porcelain Ware.

There is nothing so effective as gasoline to clean porcelain tubs and wash basins. A dry rag dipped in gasoline then rubbed on the surface, will remove practically any discoloration or stain. Marks which will not come off though scrubbed with cleaning powders and soaps, vanish like magic at the touch of gasoline.

THIS WILL ASTONISH CHARLEROI PEOPLE

The quick action of simple witch-hazel, camphor, hydrastis, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash, will surprise Charleroi people. One girl with weak, strained eyes was helped by a single application. Her mother could hardly sew or read because of eye pains. In one week she too was benefited. We guarantee a small bottle of Lavoptik to help ANY CASE weak, strained or inflamed eyes. Aluminum eye cup FREE.

PAIGE

The new series, five-passenger "Glenbrook" model is a six cylinder [illegible] but it rides with the [illegible] of an electric.

The impulses merge into a continuous flow of power that is almost unique in its effect.

From 5 to 25 miles per hour in 9 seconds flat—this is standard performance, and a clear index of giant energy

Take just one ride. It will prove a revelation so far as luxurious motoring is concerned.

BUICK

Everybody knows Buick builds six-cylinder Valve-in-Head automobiles.

—that Buick sold its entire 1920 out-put long before the end of the season.

—that Buick has sold a large percentage of its 1921 schedule.

—that Buick users are Buick salesmen.

—that Buick car values are 100 per cent.

Added to their recognized high service value the new Buick models possess a distinctive beauty. Their graceful lines and handsome appointments merit the pride which early buyers have expressed.

Nineteen Twenty One Buick automobiles have more improvements than any Buick models in the past five years and 1921 models represent 25% greater used car values.

Many of our spring deliveries are already contracted for. Thousands have been disappointed during past years because of the shortage of Buick cars.

The matter of present purchasing should receive the immediate consideration of motor car buyers (B-70)
